

About Jerry Day

Jerry Day is an Emmy-Winning Television Media Producer and a well-known freedom and rights activist. His Youtube channel has millions of views on topics such as census privacy invasion, unlawful and unsafe utility company metering, and economic and political issues that affect our freedoms and rights every day and everywhere. Jerry Day's videos and web pages offer many concrete solutions to problems that seem overwhelming to many of us as we struggle against massive corrupt institutions. Jerry lives off-grid with solar electric power and no energy or water utility company relationships of any kind.
