

Mustapha Ndanusa is a New York-based litigation attorney with over ten years of State and Federal litigation experience. Mr. Ndanusa began his career with MFY Legal Services, a not-for-profit organization, where he enhanced his litigation and advocacy skills.

Always intent on being a trial attorney, Mr. Ndanusa left MFY after four years of housing law advocacy and began his own private practice. As a solo practitioner, Mr. Ndanusa quickly began trial advocacy in criminal law, civil litigation as well as Federal action involving police misconduct such as false arrest/false imprisonment and assault.

Mustapha has been an active member in the 9/11 Truth community. He was a member of the team of lawyers that commenced a civil suit on behalf of Pentagon employee April Gallop against Dick Cheney and other U.S. officials. The matter was later dismissed by the 2nd Circuit, with the panel of Judges including a cousin of George W. Bush.
