

Ron Klinefelter is the owner of Spring Valley Organic Growers, a small organic market growing operation in the beautiful mountains of the Buffalo River country of North Central Arkansas. He has been growing for over 30 years and growing commercially for 9 years. He grows organic vegetables and berries in season, and has two greenhouses for growing salad fixin's during the winter with no supplemental heat.

He runs this farm by himself and enjoys working out in the sunshine and fresh air of God's green earth. He also occasionally does outside jobs as an independent contractor. He is a stone mason in dry laid native stone walls. As a landscaper he does garden layouts and installation. He also has the machinery that bends tubing for greenhouses.
